American Greeting.

Arrangements Being Made for His Reception in Chicago—President Dole's Representative Will Be Present—News from the Islands.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19.—Unattended by civil or military escort, with no firing of cannon or tooting of whistles, President Sanford B. Dole of Hawaii left San Francisco this morning, accompanied by the same lack of ceremony as would mark the movements of any other traveler. He was driven down to the ferry at 5 o'clock this afternoon in a hack, which also conveyed Mrs. Dole, the President's private secretary, Maj.
Jankins and Consul-General Wilder of Hawaii. The boat which connects with the departing overland train leaves this side of the bay at 6 o'clock, but to avoid publicity, the island President crossed by an earlier boat, and at the Oakland mole immediately sought the seclusion of the private car. Guards provided for him by H. E. Huntington, assistant to the president of the Southern Pacific Company, which was attached to the regular east-bound train.

Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Dole left the privacy of the car till after the departure of the train. The private car was specially provisioned and equipped under the direction of Huntington, that the little Presidential party might enjoy every procurable comfort on the last stage of his journey to Washington in the interest of annexation. The route to Chicago will be over the Central and Union Pacific and the Chicago and Northwestern roads.

President Dole made the most of the last day of his stay here. Before 10 o'clock, and while the morning was yet inopportunity grey, carriages awaited him at his hotel to convey him to the Washington-street wharf, where the military steamer, Gen. McDowell, was in readiness to receive him. The distinguished visitor to the Presidio, reservation wharf. At the latter point, the military escort was waiting to receive him, and as soon as he landed, the prescribed Presidential salute of twenty-one guns was fired. The President, accompanied by his private secretary, Maj. Jankins, and the chief of the military escort, Brigadier-General Shafter, commanding the Department of California, President Dole was then shown the interesting features of the Presidio and was given an opportunity to inspect the fortifications and batteries.

After a review of the troops stationed at the Presidio, President Dole returned to town, where he drove to the Pacific Union Club, where, at 1 o'clock, he was the guest of Mayor James D.
Phelan at an elaborate breakfast. The twenty-eight guests included representatives of the principal civic and commercial societies, representatives of the judiciary, army and navy.

The hospitality extended by the Mayor and the club occupied the greater part of the afternoon. Then the President returned to his hotel, where he rejoined Mrs. Dole, who, having had friends with her all day, spent the entire time resting, preferring not to go out.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19.—President Sanford B. Dole of Hawaii spent a busy day preparatory to his departure for Washington. At 10 o'clock this morning he left the Clay-street wharf for the Presidio on board the government tug, McDowell, accompanied by Gen. Shafter and staff. Upon his arrival at the reservation, the distinguished visitor was accorded full military honors, including the review of all the troops stationed there. After the review, President Dole inspected the batteries and fortifications, and returned to the city, where he was met and a delegation of prominent citizens awaited him. He was then escorted to the Pacific Union Club, where he was entertained by the best position for twenty-eight guests.

The afternoon will be devoted to making the final preparations for departure and bidding adieu to the friends of President Dole and the cause he represents. The Hawaiian President and his party will leave here at 6 o'clock this evening in a special coach provided by H. E. Huntington, and will travel as far as Chicago over the Central and Union Pacific and Chicago and Northwestern roads.

CHICAGO ARRANGEMENTS.
Gen. Brooks and an Escort to Meet President Dole.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]
CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—Arrangements are being rapidly completed for the reception and entertainment of President Dole of Hawaii, who is expected to arrive in Chicago Saturday morning on the Chicago and North Western Overland Limited train. President Dole will leave San Francisco very quietly tonight as an ordinary passenger, taking a single lower berth.

Gen. Brooks, commander of the troops at Fort Sheridan, will receive orders for the United States troops at that garrison to meet President Dole on his arrival in Chicago, to act as an escort to the hotel. A guard of honor, with a complement of staff officers, will also be detailed to wait on President Dole while in the city, and to escort him to the train on Sunday. Though no definite arrangements have as yet been made, the city government will doubtless be represented in the reception to be tendered the Hawaiian ruler during his brief stay in Chicago.

From Chicago it is the intention of the government representatives to take President Dole direct to Washington on a special train.

THE GOVERNMENT REPRESENT-ATIVES.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]
WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Maj. Heis-land, the army representative, and Lieutenant-Commander Phelps, who has definitely accepted the assignment to represent the navy in receiving President Dole of Hawaii, reported to Mr. Cridler this morning, and they will soon leave for Chicago. It is probable that Mr. Hatch, the Hawaiian Minister, will accompany Mr. Cridler's party to Chicago to meet President Dole. The distinguished visitor, being the nation's guest, will be taken in charge in Chicago by Mr. Cridler, and it is expected he will be quartered at the Auditorium.

The President will invite the Mayor of Chicago and Gov. Tanner of Illinois to take part in the reception to President Dole, but he is not yet certain the matter have been decided upon.

MAYOR HARRISON CO-OPERATES.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]
CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—When shown the Associated Press dispatch from Washington stating that he would be invited to cooperate in the reception of President Dole, Mayor Harrison said he would heartily join in doing honor to the President of the Hawaiian Republic.

Owing to the fact that the City Council will not be in session until next Monday, the usual method of action is impracticable. The Mayor will therefore call a meeting of prominent citizens, who will be asked to assist in the ceremonies and, with the Mayor, represent the city in a manner which would otherwise be arranged by special action of the City Council.

NEW LINE TO HONOLULU.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
PORTLAND (Or.), Jan. 19.—Steamship Mogul of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company's Oriental line, which sailed from Yokohama for Portland January 16, will call at Honolulu, and should the trade warrant, all steamers of the line will hereafter touch at Honolulu.

HAWAIIAN CABINET MEETS.
Civil Rights to Be Restored to the White Revolutionists.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]
HONOLULU, Jan. 12.—[Wire from San Francisco Jan. 19.] A long and important Cabinet meeting was held yesterday. The main subject under discussion was the petition of the Southern Pacific for a review of the decision regarding the Union Oil Company and declared the lands open to entry.
The Southern Pacific claimed certain lands in the indemnity limits, which lands the Union Oil Company also claimed.
The Supreme Court of the United States held recently that all lands are mineral and excepted from railway grant.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Secretary Bliss has denied the petition of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company for a suspension of that portion of the department's decision in the case of the Union Oil Company, which was held under a recent decision of the Supreme Court, that the railroad company could not make indemnity selection of lands within the fortified limits of the grant to the Atlantic and Pacific Company. In effect the action of the Secretary directs the restoration of public entry of the lands in the compensation of the grants to the two railroad companies.

A HORTICULTURAL BILL.
Provides for a rigid inspection to prevent disease transmission.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Congressman Barlow today introduced a bill making it unlawful to import nursery stock without an official certificate of inspection that it is free from insects and fungus diseases.

With this no other quarantine is necessary.

The Secretary of Agriculture may quarantine against fruit from countries where it is infested with insects or disease until the danger shall be over.
Domestic nursery stock intended for interstate commerce must be inspected prior to September of each year. If passed, it would be free from all other restrictions. Violating the act or forging certificates to be punished by $500 fine or one year of imprisonment, or both.

Representatives of the National Horticultural Society appeared before the committee in advocacy of the bill, which will probably be reported favorably.

SENATE AND HOUSE.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—A spirited debate was precipitated in the Senate today by the introduction of a resolution by Mr. Hoar of Massachusetts providing for an inquiry by the Committee on Postoffices and Postroads concerning the recent order of the Postmaster-General reducing the force of letter carriers in several cities of the country. Mr. Hoar declared that the order had had the effect of a dynamite bomb in creating consternation among these men throughout the country, while apparently all that was needed by the Postoffice Department was an appropriation of $150,000 to maintain the efficiency of the carrier service.

The debate took a wide range. Mr.
Volcott, chairman of the Committee on Postoffices and Postroads, insisting that many of the English people, represented by the Senator from Massachusetts were responsible for the deficiency in the funds of the Postoffice Department, because they insisted that the government should carry second-class mail at enormous loss, and Mr.
Allen of Nebraska, charging that the government was annually fraudulent out of millions of dollars through the underweighing of mail matter. The resolution in a modified form is still pending.

Mr. Vest gave notice that he would move tomorrow to take up for consideration the Teller resolution, reported by the Finance Committee, providing that the bonds of the United States may be paid in standard silver dollars. Mr.
Vest's notice seems to indicate an intention on the part of some of the Senators to displace temporarily the Hawaiian annexation treaty, as it is evident, as Mr. White of California said, that the consideration of the Teller resolution would precipitate some slight discussion.

A resolution was adopted by the Senate instructing the Interstate Commerce Commission to inquire into the legality and the use of funds provided in Rules 16 and 17 of the Joint Traffic Association treaty.

THE CUBAN STRUGGLE.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]
WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Chairman Hitt of the Committee on Foreign Affairs made an extended statement of the Cuban situation when the general debate on the Diplomatic Bill opened in the House this afternoon. He outlined the course of the administration, the successful demands for the release of American citizens, and the protest against the inhuman methods of war resulting in the removal of Weyler, and the effect of the concentration of Cubans in towns. This showed the spirit that dominated the President and what might be expected of his administration.

Mr. Hitt spoke of the autonomy plan and the disposition of the Executive to give it a fair trial, notwithstanding the fact that the people of Cuba were the country against the sincerity of the plan.

The President had pointed out, Mr.
Hitt said, that the policy of the administration would, in fact, weigh more heavily than the policy of the legislation.

one asking for an increase in the army establishment, the other advocating the creation of an army commission.

Barlow presented a bill in the House providing that the National Soldiers'

$8 a month to old soldiers who have

SOUTHERN PACIFIC LOSES.

EVEN GROVER.

Morgan Calls Him an Annexionist.

But the Ex-President Wanted
His Way About It.

President Dole a Creditable Head for Any Nation.

Senator Hoar Wants to Know About the Reduction of the Letter-Carrier Force—Vest Will Call Up Teller's Resolution.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Senator Morgan continued his speech in advance of the ratification of the Hawaiian annexation treaty in the executive session of the Senate today. He announced that he would probably require one more day in which to complete his presentation of the subject.

Senator Morgan dealt today with the questions of the agricultural and commercial possibilities on the island; with the character of the present government, and with the position of the residents of the island and the subject of annexation. He repeated his assertion that President Cleveland was favorable to the acquisition of the islands, and expressed the opinion that it was his intention to have restored Queen Liliuokalani and to have negotiated with her a treaty of annexation.
He elaborated his views on this subject at considerable length, saying that while he believed it was Mr. Cleveland's intention to have annexed the islands, he naturally changed his interpretation to do this through the restoration of the Queen when she made known her bloodthirsty disposition toward those who had dethroned her.

He expressed the opinion that Mr.
Cleveland would never have taken such a positive position as he did take against the Dole government, and in opposition to annexation but for the antagonistic and misleading report of Cleveland's Biographer.

The Senator interrupted at this point by two or three Senators who were opposed to the treaty who wanted to know if it was not true that President Cleveland had withdrawn the treaty for annexation made by the Harrison administration. He admitted that this was the case, but he said that it was a matter of record, but he contended that under circumstances entirely to his liking, Mr. Cleveland had supported annexation.

Mr. Morgan had been convinced from private interviews with the ex-President that he not only believed in the wisdom of annexation of Hawaii but that he would also have recommended the annexation of Cuba under right conditions.

Mr. Morgan took up the criticism of the government of Hawaii, defending it in strong terms, and eulogizing President Dole as the most competent ruler of the time.

President Dole's history, and said that that gentleman's record showed that he would be a creditable president.
He controverted the idea that the present government was, as had been charged, a missionary government, claiming that every man was way-staunch and enterprising, and abreast of the times.

He said that the people naturally sought a close alliance with the United States because they had always had the friendship and support of the people of this country.

Speaking of the resources of the island, Senator Morgan said they were mainly coffee, and that the time would come when they would produce enough coffee to supply the demands of all the people of the United States, while he said, the sugar production had already reached its limit. He estimated that there were at least 176,000 acres of land in the islands adapted to the growth of coffee, and said that industry was rapidly developing. He thought at least 7500 tons of coffee would be exported from the islands during the present year.

He concluded that the resources of the country were such as to insure a very prosperous future, and predicted that Honolulu would some time in the not distant future attain to great commercial importance, equal in all probability to that of Hongkong or other cities of equal magnitude.

THE IMMIGRATION BILL.
Efforts to Be Made to Secure Early Action in the House.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]
WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—The Immigration Bill that has just passed the Senate will be pushed in the House, with a view to securing early action.
The only question is as to whether the measure will be urged as it passed the Senate, or will take the form of the McCall Bill. The latter includes the educational test, both reading and writing, while the Senate Bill, as it finally passed that body, limited the test to reading alone. Representative W. A. Stone, who has taken an active part in immigration matters, favors accepting the Senate measure as it stands, in order to avoid a protracted struggle. He accordingly will move, when the bill shall come from the Senate, that it lie on the Speaker's desk, subject to be called up at any time when the appropriation bill shall be out of the way.

Chairman Danford of the House Immigration Committee, favors this plan, if the Committee on Rules shall give assurance that it will be taken up for action to a vote. For the present, there is no purpose to merge the Corlies third of passage restriction, applying mainly to the Canadian border, and any action on this branch of the subject will be taken independent of the present bill.

Weather Conditions.—The storm which was central yesterday in the East, Sunday country has moved eastward, giving cloudy weather with rain as far south as San Francisco and Nevada. Fair, cool weather continues in Southern California. It is warmer in the mountains and plateau regions, a marked rise having occurred in Nevada since yesterday morning. There were occasional frosts in California this morning.

Forecasts.—Local forecast for Los Angeles and vicinity: Fair weather tonight and Thursday.

WEATHER FORECAST:

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19.—For Southern California: Fair Thursday; colder, probably frost Thursday morning; light northerly winds.

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

It is announced that Mayor Snyder, Councilmen Grider and Hutchison and R. J. Colver are about to give thorough consideration to the municipal water question. With the guarantee of a quartette of such brilliant intellects at work upon it, the water question may presumably be considered as good as settled.

The Pasadena Star has awakened to the fact that the Transmississippi Exposition at Omaha promises to be a big thing, and California should be well represented. The government is to honor the occasion by a special issue of postage stamps, and the probability is that the exposition will be much larger than any of us realize.

Los Angeles at last has something to live for, and her weary way is cheered by the Phoenix Herald with this mild encouragement: "Los Angeles is on the move with a curfew ordinance. It took her some ten years longer than Phoenix to adopt this salutatory method of protecting her children, but Los Angeles will get there in course of time."

The Santa Fe New Mexican says: "Mr. W. Jennings Bryan goes merrily on taking about the 'courageous and glorious fight we made last year.' The question arises, what sort of a fight did he make last year, anyway? The only fight the people of this country know of he made during 1897, was the fight for big receipts at lectures he delivered, and big fees for appearing at country fairs."

According to the San José Mercury the new rush for the north has already begun. The Walla Walla took out 365 passengers Sunday, at least half of whom are bound for the Klondike. The outfitting business in San Francisco from this time on will be extremely valuable to that city, and indirectly it will create an additional demand for the dried fruits and desiccated vegetables of this county.

A protest is entered in this wise by the San José Mercury: "The petition of the California River Convention, asking for an appropriation for the improvement of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers, has been promoted by Senator Perkins and the appropriation should be forthcoming. California is entitled to more consideration in the matter of internal improvement than Congress has been accustomed to accord it."

The Santa Rosa Republican says: "It begins to look as if Sonoma county people are going to permit the location of their sugar plant in some other section of the State this year. If our farmers had worked together in real earnest they might have secured such a factory here, and thus have added to our many industries and have increased the value of much real estate. There are a lot of us up this way who are too slow for our own and the county's good."

The Fresno Republican thinks it will be some time before the sugar-beet business can be overdone in the United States. While our annual consumption is 2,000,000 or more, our product in 1897 was only 50,000 tons. With such an immense market and a good protective duty the sugar-beet industry ought to be a profitable one in the United States for many years to come. When will the people in Fresno county recognize the value of this crop and give it a trial? There are many localities here adapted to sugar-beet culture, and if we display the necessary energy and enterprise it will not be long before we secure the establishment of a factory in this county.

MYSTERIOUS MOVE.

Postal Authorities Want to Know About Carrier Routes.

Postmaster Matthews is in receipt of a telegram from Washington, D. C., dated January 19, which reads as follows:

"Give me statement showing distribution of your carrier force, number employed on two, three and four delivery routes, and the high number of deliveries made in residential districts."

"A. W. MACHEN, 'Superintendent free-delivery system.' They are entirely at a loss at the postoffice to know what the telegram may mean. If it is an indication that the number of carriers is to be reduced, it would work a hardship on people living in outlying districts in getting their mail. Even with the sixty-two carriers now employed, the city is not quite covered."

IN QUEST OF FORTUNE.

MEMBERS OF THE POLICE FORCE OFF FOR ALASKA.

An Expedition Headed by Chief of Detectives Moffatt Starts for the Yukon Gold Fields—The Party Backed by Capitalists.

Chief of Detectives Charles R. Moffatt, Police Officer Frank L. Benedict, ex-Captain of Police C. L. Loomis and a young man named Warren from Boyle Heights started for the Yukon gold fields yesterday. Chief of Police Glavin, Sgt. Smith, Detective Auble, L. N. Breed, Dr. Bogue and wife of Glendale and several other friends of the adventurers accompanied them to the Arcade Depot to bid them bon voyage.

The party went to Port Los Angeles, where they boarded the steamer Queen for San Francisco, where they will proceed to Seattle on the Umatilla and thence to Dyea. No better-equipped expedition has left Los Angeles since the rush to Alaska began, than this quartette. They spent several months in outfitting, and provided themselves with none but the very best of clothing, tools, arms, sleeping bags, etc., though of everything needed to last them several years. Their supply of provisions they will lay in at Seattle. Their total pack when completed will weigh about four tons, an average of one ton to the man.

Their ultimate destination is still unknown, and will not be determined until they have crossed the divide between Dyea and his executive ability, the Yukon. They will take the Chilcoot Pass route, transporting their supplies on sleds down the lakes and river on the ice. They are expected to build a boat about thirty feet long and six feet beam. As soon as the river is navigable they will explore its banks and the adjacent gulches in search of gold.

It is understood that members of the party represent others besides themselves, and that they are backed by all the capital necessary to develop any prospects they may find, no matter how extensive. Meanwhile their families are provided for here, and they themselves are having their expenses paid.

Detective Moffatt was chosen as the head of the expedition, on account of his experience as a mountaineer and his standing higher in the esteem of his fellow-officers and superiors. As head of the detective department and private secretary to Chief Glass, he has performed a vast amount of work. Now all the correspondence of the police department for the last ten years has been conducted by Mr. Moffatt personally. This was often voluminous and called for many hours' extra labor. It was Mr. Moffatt's intention to resign from the force when he decided to go to Alaska, but Chief Glass persuaded him to simply ask for a leave of absence, so he could return to his old position in case disaster overtook the expedition.

Officer Benedict, although but a few years on the force, has been regarded as a very efficient officer, also. He was likewise granted a leave of absence, so that he can resume work as a policeman should anything occur in the near future to cause him to return to Los Angeles.

Capt. Loomis has been superintendent of Evergreen Cemetery since his retirement from the police force eight or nine years ago. He has always enjoyed the confidence of his employers, and is said to be backed by them in his present venture. Mr. Warren is a young man selected by Capt. Loomis as a desirable person to play the role of junior partner in the expedition. It is safe to say that a stronger combination has not left Los Angeles for Alaskan gold fields since the rush began, than these four. Their friends expect to hear reports of their success in the industry, intelligence, financial backing and proper outfitting count for anything in the new El Dorado.

Detective Bradish has been temporarily appointed to succeed Mr. Moffatt as chief of detectives. One of the patrolmen, probably Officer Fowler, will be detailed to take the place of Mr. Bradish as a field detective.

MR. DEPEW'S NARROW ESCAPE.
The Chance Gardiner Hubbard Gave Him to Take Telephone Stock.

[New York Tribune:] The death of Gardiner G. Hubbard brought forth an interesting reminiscence story from Chauncey M. Depew.

"Thirty years ago," he said, musingly, "I was counsel for the Harlem road, and Gardiner G. Hubbard was railway mail inspector. In the course of our official duties we were thrown frequently into contact, and came to know each other well. I liked him, and he seemed to like me. We grew more and more confidential, until one day Hubbard came into my office, and, leading against my desk, said: 'Depew, I have a son-in-law. He is a bright young fellow named Bell. He is a student and not very practical in his line. I have invented a talking telegraph. It is a wonderful sort of an arrangement. I think it has wonderful possibilities in the short communication for use in villages and other places, and will save a great deal in messenger boy fees and so on. I don't think it will ever be much use for long-distance messages, but it seems as if it might have a field of its own.'"

"In those days Hubbard had no money and I had only a little. He suggested to me that I take an interest in the invention, and made a proposition that I advance $30,000, for which he would give a sixth interest in the patent. I said I would think it over. The next day I went down-town and saw William Orton, who was at that time president of the Western Union Telegraph Company. I laid the matter before him fully. He said to me: 'Depew, I haven't got much money, and as a friend I don't want to see you lose what you have got. That invention is practically worthless. If it should, however, we own prior patents upon the idea of which Bell's patents are simply an infringement. Don't throw away your money.'"

"I took his advice, and now I am in a position to reflect. What would have been the result? I would be today, or like $30,000,000. I would say my estate, for in the event of my having secured an interest in that tremendously successful company I do not think I should be alive today. Why? Because I would have suddenly grown rich. I would have had, aside from my tremendous holding of stock, an enormous revenue that it would have exhausted me to spend. There would have been no incentive for me to engage in healthy labor and an intellectual work such as I have been compelled to keep at in order to make my way in the world. I attribute my life and my health to continued and healthful labor. Not overwork or underwork, but just a natural allotment and fair share."

The Rush To Klondike

Has begun in earnest. We think on a conservative estimate, two thousand men will leave Los Angeles this spring for the frozen regions. We don't expect to outfit the entire lot, still we should at the prices we are selling the goods. We guarantee our prices 20 per cent, lower than Seattle or Victoria prices, and we know what we are talking about because we have a list of their prices on the same class of goods. Come in and see our goods.

Dear Sir:—In justice to you and for the benefit of others, I wish to make a statement of my case. I was afflicted with ulceration of the rectum and hemorrhages of the bowels. I was treated by two good doctors until I lost 25 pounds of flesh and became so weak from loss of blood that I was unable to attend to business. I then commenced doctoring with Dr. Wong Him. Bleeding stopped and I estimate my improvement with the first dose of medicine, and at the end of four months I had regained my lost flesh and health, and am today well and sound. In Dr. Wong Him's honesty, integrity and ability to cure any disease that he says he can cure I have unbounded confidence and faith, and would recommend him to all needing a doctor. Yours truly,

ADVANCE IN RATES.

COSTS MORE NOW TO GET TO THE GOLD FIELDS.

The Seven Transportation Companies Tax Passengers Several More Dollars from Seattle.

FIFTY DOLLARS TO SKAGWAY.

QUITE AN ADVANCE ALSO MADE IN THE FREIGHT TARIFF.

New Line of Steamers to Run from Portland-Party to Go to Klondike by Balloon-Relief Expedition.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] SEATTLE, Jan. 19.—The expected advance in rates for Alaska is announced today. The seven transportation companies that control nearly all the business have agreed on an increase of $10 to the passenger rate between Puget Sound points and Dyea and Skagway, and a proportionate increase to Juneau and other Southeastern Alaska points. The new rate to Dyea and Skagway, which goes into effect at once, is: First class, $50; second class $35. The rate on freight is advanced from $10 to $13 per ton.

ANOTHER STEAMER LINE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] PORTLAND, Jan. 19.—The North Pacific Lumber Company of this city will put on a line of steamers between Portland and Alaska. The company has already chartered the steamship Alcatraz, and is now negotiating for two more vessels of the same class.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—President Ripley of the Atchafalpa, Topeka and Santa Fe has written a letter to the editor of a Kansas Populist paper, replying to a communication published in that paper citing the number of people killed by the railroads of the United States as reason why these railroads should be put under government control. Mr. Ripley points out that the railroads carry the whole population of the State of Kansas two and a half times over before one passenger is killed, the last year the railroads on the railways in Kansas ran more than 800,000 miles, yet only one employee's life was sacrificed for every 43,000 miles. Of 406 others killed in the United States in 1896, the reports show that 331 were trespassers. He shows the conclusion that the plea of government ownership because of the number of persons whom the railway kills is entirely worthless.

PENSION LAWS.

RECENT DECISIONS OF DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR.

When a Widow is Entitled to Claim Support from the Government. Helpless Minor—Length of Service Required from a Soldier.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.] WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Pensioners and prospective pensioners will be interested in the following recent decisions of the Interior Department, which govern the administration of the pension office:

Dependent widow; income; means of support.—It is reasonable to assume in the absence of evidence to the contrary, that a widow who owns 200 acres of improved farming land, and two town lots in Buffalo county, Wis., worth, at a low valuation, $2000, free of encumbrance, and who has no children dependent upon her, and is not shown to be physically disabled, can, by reasonable effort, secure a comfortable support, and is not entitled to relief under section 3 of act of June 27, 1890. A widow who claims the benefit of said section, should make a full and frank exposition of her financial circumstances and means of support. The amount of her income in dollars and cents is not necessarily the measure of her "means of support."—Widow of John Guttlinger, Co. K, Wisconsin Volunteers.

Dependent widow; means of support; physical ability of widow to perform manual labor.—Claimant's property consists of the sum of $2000, which yields her an annual income of $120. Report of the medical referee shows that by reason of organic disease of heart and resulting disability, she is totally unable to labor for her own support. Held: Claimant is dependent within the meaning of the act of June 27, 1890. Widow of William E. Wanglin, captain Fifty-third United States Colored Volunteers.

Helpless minor.—A soldier's child who becomes insane or permanently after he has attained his sixteenth year, is not entitled to a minor's pension, under the provisions of the act of June 27, 1890. (Citing case of John J. Marshall, 7 P. D. 212.)—Minor of Charles Riddle, Co. B, Sixty-seventh Pennsylvania Volunteers.

Ninety days' service.—Period for which soldier was paid does not determine the length of his service, except in cases of State militiamen, called into the United States service, and in cases where other records are incomplete. Where the original report of the War Department shows that a soldier enlisted March 31, 1865, and was discharged June 24, 1865, having served ninety-four days; and a later report states that the muster roll and the descriptive list of his company for April 30, 1865, show that the soldier was enrolled March 21, 1865; but the original enlistment paper of the soldier, found and shown conclusively that the soldier was enrolled and mustered in March 31, 1865; the enlistment paper being the primary record of enrollment, and shown by it must be accepted as the correct date of enrollment, instead of the conflicting dates shown by other records; and such soldier is entitled, therefore, in the service ninety days. Date of enlistment, which fixes beginning of the service, must be determined by the War Department from its records. The period for which pay was allowed does not determine the length of service, except in cases of State militiamen, called into the United States service, and in cases where other records are incomplete. (Citing case of John J. Marshall, 7 P. D. 212.)—Minor of Charles Riddle, Co. B, Sixty-seventh Pennsylvania Volunteers.

Attorneys' fees in restoration cases.—The restoration of a pensioner's name to the rolls under any law as the result of the allowance of a claim for increase when the claimant's title to pension under the law is admitted, does not entitle the attorney to any greater fee than he would be allowed for securing an increase were claimant in receipt of pension by virtue of the law under which application for increase was made. As the appellant was denied a fee for reasons indicated, the action of the board is confirmed. (Citing case of Jacob Young, Troop B, Tenth United States Colored Cavalry. SMITH D. FRY.)

M. & M. ASSOCIATION.

New Directors Elected Officers for the Year.

The first meeting of the new board of directors of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association was held yesterday afternoon, at the new headquarters, for the purpose of electing officers of the association for the ensuing year.

The following were unanimously elected: Fred L. Baker, president; H. P. Anderson, first vice-president; R. W. Burnham, second vice-president; E. A. Stuart, treasurer. F. J. Zeehandelaar was unanimously re-elected secretary.

The invitation of the Orpheum management to the board of directors and the secretary to attend the performance next Tuesday evening in a body was accepted.

A communication was received from Superintendent Akin of the Los Angeles Railway Company, stating that arrangement will be made so that the street cars will not interfere with the movements of the parade on Monday next.

The merchants on the block where the Hall of Industry is located, have agreed to decorate their places of business on Saturday and Sunday in honor of the opening of the Permanent Home Products Exhibition.

Work on the exhibition building and different booths is progressing favorably, and every indication points to a successful opening.

The Poultry Show.

The ninth annual poultry, pigeon and pet stock exhibition of the Los Angeles County Poultry Association will be held at Nos. 226-330 South Main street on January 25, 26, 27, 28 and 29.

Exhibits of birds are promised from Riverside, Redlands, Santa Ana, Orange, Pasadena, Ventura, Santa Barbara, and from even as far north as San Francisco. Premium lists, entry blanks, etc., are to be had at the secretary's office, No. 115 North Main street.

Horse on the Express.

An evening paper hustled out a reporter yesterday to get a detailed description of Jove's horse-drawn delivery wagon, and discovered that everybody else had seen the mules, and the joke some time ago. The evening paper was so charged that it would not own up to having been sold, but pretended that it had known the story for three months.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Business Transacted Yesterday by the Directors.

The board of directors of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce met yesterday afternoon. John M. Gilbert and W. J. Hole were elected members. The resignation of George E. Pratt was read and accepted.

Director Duque, chairman of the Committee on Immigration, made the following report, which was adopted: "In the matter of the suggestion of the secretary of the State Board of Horticulture, that this chamber formulate a proposition to said board in connection with the State Fruit-Growers' Convention to be held in the southern part of the State the coming spring, the Committee on Immigration is to offer the following resolution:

"Whereas, the State Board of Horticulture has decided to hold the next State Fruit-Growers' Convention some time during the coming spring in the southern part of the State, and whereas, it is in the programme of said convention to meet in this city for two or more days, and whereas, the officers of the Pomological Society have assured this chamber of their hearty cooperation to make the meeting a success, now, therefore be it

"Resolved, that a reception be given the members of the State Fruit-Growers' Convention, under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce of the city of Los Angeles, on their arrival here, and that the Chamber of Commerce shall be placed at the disposal of the convention during their stay in this city."

Director Slauson announced that he had secured his proportion of the funds for the Omaha proposition, and suggested that another committee be appointed to finish the work. The chair announced that he would name another committee.

Director Newberry reported that his committee had instructed the secretary to prepare a display wagon to be placed in the Merchants' and Manufacturers' parade of the golden jubilee, Monday, January 25.

A communication from the Civil Service Reform Association of New York, was referred to the Committee on Law and Legislation.

A communication from Thomas Pascoe, with reference to tourists' headquarters, was referred to Committee on Hotels.

A petition to be presented to the United States Congress, asking the reservation of the Pine Mountain range in Ventura county, was read, and the endorsement of the board of directors was asked for. It was referred to the Committee on Law and Legislation.

Director Groff, chairman, and he reported favoring the endorsement of the petition. The report was unanimously adopted. The matter of placing electric and other wires in conduits through the principal streets of the city was taken up, and a resolution was passed authorizing the president to bring the matter before the City Council.

The secretary was instructed to have 2000 leaflets of "Deciduous Fruits and Winter Vegetables" printed.

THE POLICE COURT.

Good Crop of Drunks, but Shortage of Other Lawbreakers.

The crop of drunks was pretty good yesterday, but there were not very many other violators of the law for arraignment in the Police Court.

Frank Lee's jag was of such an aggravated nature that he was given a sentence of $30 or thirty days. James Wilson, who coupled insolence with inebrity, was given a sentence of $10 or ten days. N. S. Kreager, William Bennett, Jerry Maple and James Riley had jags of the $5 variety. W. H. Lewis and Scott Evans, just plain drunks, were assessed $3 each. John Hennessey, out on bail, did not respond to his name, and Alfred Benson, a left-hander, was fined $5 and bail ordered.

W. J. Dixon, a Santa Fe freight conductor from San Bernardino, was fined $10 for disturbing the peace. An Italian groceryman had accused him of coming into his store on Upper Main street and "awiping" a calendar, whereupon the Italian waxed rosy and called the groceryman a lot of names that would not look well in print. Dixon admitted that he used bad language, but denied that he stole the calendar. He said he got it at a wine house and wanted to decorate his caboose therewith.

Carl Mulhausen, alias Schilling, Schiltz, et al., was arraigned on a new complaint charging him with petty larceny in having stolen $15 from Mrs. Hermine Stoll. He pleaded not guilty, waived a jury and had his trial set for January 25.

Peter Rock, the Italian peanut peddler who is accused of taking a $5 gold piece of Ida Judd in lieu of a nickel and refusing to return any change, demanded a jury trial through his attorney, Maj. Horace Bell, which was set down for February 2 at 9:30 a. m. Also, Trimbly was fined $1 for battery committed on a youth named Ulmstead, who had sauced him.

The battery charge against Frank Hutchinson was dismissed by mutual agreement of all parties concerned and payment of $5 costs. Hutchinson is the Boyle Heights youth who struck another boy with a shiny club.

BOY BURGLAR BAKER.

Held to Answer on One Charge and Another Pending.

The boy burglar, Louis Baker, was held to answer to the Superior Court by Justice Owens yesterday in $3000 bail. The charge on which he was examined was for the burglary of the store of the Southern California Arms and Ammunition Company, a second complaint charging him with the burglary of the store of Arlington & Reed, bicycle agents and dealers in artists' and photographers' supplies, has been filed by Detective Hawley. Baker will be examined on this charge by Justice Owens this afternoon. Detective Hawley says young Baker also committed various other burglaries, one of them consisting of the breaking of a window of the store of a second-hand clothing dealer, and another of the store of a second-hand clothing dealer.

Baker also broke into Parker's machine shop in North Main street, it is alleged, and stole a dynamo, dies, wrenches, wire, etc. No complaints will be filed in these cases, however. The young burglar is the son of a Southern Pacific brakeman, and was apprenticed to learn the machinist's trade. His fondness for machinery was so great that he could not resist the temptation to steal it whenever the opportunity presented. His plunder consisted of dynamos, typewriters, tools, firearms, etc. Most of it was found by Detectives Hawley and Able concealed in the garret of his parents' house.

DECIDUOUS-FRUIT GROWERS.

Local Associations Being Rapidly Organized by A. R. Sprague.

A. R. Sprague, organizer of the Deciduous-Fruit Growers' Exchange, reports that he is meeting with much success in the work. A local association has just been organized at Manzanita, and he expects to assist in the establishment of five others during the week, viz.: One at Bloomington on Thursday, Ontario on Friday, Etiwanda on Saturday, San Gabriel, Monday, and Toluca on the evening of the same day. Asawa will probably be ripe for organization in about ten days.

Events in Society.

(The society columns of the Illustrated Magazine Section of the Sunday Times are closed at 6 p.m. on Saturday.)

Mrs. J. M. Ballhache of Monmouth avenue entertained charmingly at luncheon yesterday in honor of Mr. Ballhache's mother, Mrs. H. Ballhache of San Diego. The other guests were: Mrs. P. J. Williams, Works, Phoebe Daniel, Olin Wellborn, Ben Goodrich, W. C. Read and W. J. Hunsaker. The table was very prettily decorated with flowers and greenery, the centerpiece being a silver wicker basket filled with the blossoming plants. Sprays of the flowers and ferns were placed over the cloth and caught with bows of green satin ribbon in the place cards.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Francis entertained a few friends at supper at Christopher's last evening at the close of Archbishop Rordan's lecture. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Truman, Dr. and Mrs. Carl Kurtz, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Hoyle, Mr. and Mrs. Modin-Wood, Miss Truman, Mrs. Francisco Alexander and Dr. Fleming.

The annual reception held by the board of managers of the Ladies' Benevolent Society at the elegant residence of Mrs. Nettie Mueller on Seventh street and Burlington avenue yesterday afternoon, proved an unusually delightful affair. The beautiful rooming was brilliantly lighted and fragrant with violets and other flowers. Potted palms and ferns were arranged here and there and a most especially artistic effect in the punch-room. The refreshments were served at flower-decorated tables in the bowling alley. Louis's Orchestra, which kindly donated its services for the occasion, was stationed in the balcony in the reception hall and furnished delightful music during the afternoon. The Reception Committee included Mrs. Nettie Mueller, H. G. Bath, H. Hollman, E. M. Day, Mrs. J. B. Smith, J. O. Wheeler, William Pridham, W. D. Gould, Josephine Butler and Miss Will. The punch-room was presided over by Mrs. J. B. Smith, Mrs. J. O. Wheeler and the Misses Sanborn, Ivy Schoder and Maude Masao. Among those who were there were:

Mr. and Mrs. C. Behrendt gave a dinner last evening at their residence on South Grand avenue in honor of Mrs. Emma Newman and Mrs. C. Behrendt, whose engagement was announced last week. The table was decorated with ferns and pink and white ribbons, and lighted with pink candles in silver candelabra. The place cards were decorated with fancy heads done in water colors. The guests who were present were: Mr. and Mrs. A. Newman, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Goldschmidt, Mr. and Mrs. John Kahn, Mr. and Mrs. H. Newman, Mr. and Mrs. C. Behrendt, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Newman, Dr. Philip Newman, Messrs. Hugo Goldschmidt, Albert Korn, Phineas Newman and Sam Newman.

French painters of the period from 1700 to 1800 and the English school from 1800 to 1850 were the subjects of the meeting of the Ruskin Art Club yesterday morning. The leaders, Mrs. George Deane and Mrs. Augustus Hine, discussed the works of Antoine Watteau, painter of fashionable life; Claude Joseph Vernet, the great marine painter; and the works of Jean Boucher, domestic and rural life (1714-1805), and Francois Boucher, whose style is considered the most perfect embodiment of French taste in the eighteenth century (1703-1770). Mrs. White, Miss Carrie Davis and Mrs. W. H. Bradley gave brief sketches of the French artists and their work. The meeting was closed with a brief review of Thomas Gainsborough, the father of English landscape painting, by Miss Elizabeth Marble, and of his pictures by Miss Annie Wetherill.

AGRICULTURAL PARK.

Entries Now Open for the Great Sunday and Monday Races.

Entries are now open for the great two days' coursing meet at Agricultural Park on Sunday and Monday next. The match is a sixty-four dog stake for a purse of $200 and promises to be the best coursing ever held in Southern California. Continuous racing for two days. Entrance fee $1. File entries with the secretary at No. 143 South Broadway (1st floor). Entries close Thursday evening, when the drawing takes place. The remaining five and final of last Sunday's races will be run off on next Sunday morning, commencing at 9 o'clock. Coursing in the sixty-four dog races begins promptly at 10:30 o'clock. All dogs entered for last event should be promptly on hand at that hour. Special attractions each day.

TAPS FOR SERGT. FETTER.

Sudden Death of a Veteran of Two Wars.
Sergeant Jacob Fetter, U.S.A., retired, died suddenly yesterday at No. 711 Maple avenue, where he had been residing for some time. He arose as usual in the morning and had his breakfast at a restaurant near by. After breakfast he returned to the lodging-house and seated himself at the table. He had not been seated very long before several women about the place saw his head drop upon his breast. They ran to his assistance, but in a few moments he was dead.

An inquest was held at Orr & Hines' undertaking room yesterday evening. The verdict of the coroner's jury was that the death resulted from heart disease. Papers found among the dead man's effects showed that he was a native of Indiana, 7 years old, that he had spent the better part of his life as a cavalryman in the United States army, having participated in no less than 150 battles of the Mexican and civil wars, and later having seen service on the frontier. He was retired some years ago on account of age, on a salary of $30 per month for life. So far as could be learned this was the old man's sole support. He had no relatives here and few acquaintances.

KICKED TO DEATH.

WIFE MURDER AMONG THE BIRDS AT OSTRICH FARM.

Major McKinley Kills His Mate in a Fit of Rage and Then Challenges Jim Corbett to Meet Him in a Finish Fight.

"Ma! McKinley" kicked his wife to death Tuesday.

The statement, startling as it is, is a fact only in this instance. "Ma! McKinley" referred to is the largest, handsomest and most vicious male bird at the ostrich farm, and his wife was one of the most valuable hens of her species in captivity.

The wife murder, for it was nothing less than that, occurred during the afternoon of Tuesday.

When the female ostrich begins to lay the male bird helps her build a nest. This consists of digging a round hole in the ground about three feet in diameter and six inches in depth at its deepest part.

Ma! and Mrs. McKinley, the largest and most valuable birds at the farm, had been penniless and alone since soon began to make a nest in one corner of the small inclosure allotted to them.

In the adjoining inclosure, separated only by a high fence of twine, boarded, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Corbett, the next best pair of ostriches, were penned.

Up to Tuesday Mrs. Corbett had laid three eggs in the nest dug out by herself and husband, while Mrs. McKinley had not an egg in her nest, although it had been made first.

The male and female ostrich take turns in hatching the eggs, the female occupying the nest during the day and the male at night. Whether it was neighborly jealousy that caused the trouble in McKinley's pen or whether it was from some other cause, the corner's jury that sat upon Mrs. McKinley's remains, after the murder, is not prepared to say.

Corbett, who was the witness, had seen McKinley kicking and tramping on the protruding edge of the female bird, which he had driven to the corner and knocked down. The attacks of the male bird were vicious in the extreme, and it took the combined efforts of the attendants to drag him away from his victim.

As soon as the quivering body of the female ostrich was dragged from the pen, the male bird was driven to the pen, where he was apparently wild with rage. He charged at the crowds on the outside of the enclosure that surrounded his pen, when he found that he could not reach them by striking with his beak over the top of the fence, turned and ran, and it took the combined efforts of the attendants to drag him away from his victim.

Offers of sugar-beets and oranges failed to appease the wrath of the male bird, who was driven to the pen, where he was apparently wild with rage. He charged at the crowds on the outside of the enclosure that surrounded his pen, when he found that he could not reach them by striking with his beak over the top of the fence, turned and ran, and it took the combined efforts of the attendants to drag him away from his victim.

In the mean time the ostriches in the adjacent pen, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Corbett, had become very friendly. The male bird, who was apparently wild with rage, was driven to the pen, where he was apparently wild with rage. He charged at the crowds on the outside of the enclosure that surrounded his pen, when he found that he could not reach them by striking with his beak over the top of the fence, turned and ran, and it took the combined efforts of the attendants to drag him away from his victim.

There was a rush of attendants to the corner and Corbett was driven to the pen, where he was apparently wild with rage. He charged at the crowds on the outside of the enclosure that surrounded his pen, when he found that he could not reach them by striking with his beak over the top of the fence, turned and ran, and it took the combined efforts of the attendants to drag him away from his victim.

The killing of the bird, Mrs. McKinley, is the first serious result of the many deaths that have occurred between ostriches on the farm. The birds are by nature vicious and ugly toward every one, and have no kindly feelings for the men who feed them day after day. They have been the veriest stranger who comes into the place. The attack of the male bird, Mrs. McKinley, upon her mate was an unusual occurrence, but one illustrating the temper of the birds.

EXHIBITION OF TEXTILE ART.

Sale at Auction of the Famous Ferris Collection.

Great interest has centered within the past two days in the free exhibition of imported textile fabrics of the famous Ferris collection, at No. 205 South Broadway. The name of Ferris is, of itself, one which is well known to connoisseurs, and the collection under his name has awakened widespread interest throughout America. The present exhibit comprises many direct importations which came direct to Los Angeles, and have not been seen elsewhere in this country. Innumerable choice fabrics contain the original hanging straps by which they were originally suspended in the Oriental mosque, and the art galleries of Europe.

Of special interest in this collection are six Samarcanda, two blue Bokharas, a magnificent olive-green India carpet ten by thirteen feet, and a blue and white carpet resembling the Japanese tapestries in composition, but which is an all-wool India. There are Bokharas carpets and rugs that resemble silk, alike from their antiquity and use. Many Chit rug and Sherwan, the wonderful Chishtians, Irans and Morosols are shown, and, in fact, specimens from every city in which textile art has become famous.

The sale of these art treasures will occur Friday and Saturday, both forenoon and afternoon, and will be in charge of Mr. George H. Weigert, who has just concluded the sale of ceramics for Grossbaum & Sons, London, in this city. Every article in the collection is to be sold, absolutely regardless of the original price, and nothing is to be reserved or "bid in." This latter statement the management wish distinctly understood. Mr. Weigert states that everything asked for will be put up and disposed of, no matter how small the price, as the collection must be turned into money, judging from the good faith shown by this gentleman in conducting the Grossbaum sale, the Ferris collection will be conducted as he says.

Purchasers will be furnished with illustrated catalogue and commissions faithfully carried out, without charge, for those unable to attend. The hours of sale will be 10:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. both days. Those who have not viewed this exhibit should do so today.
